

WOODFUEL SUPPLIERS LISTINGS

The following list contains contacts for people who have indicated that they are currently supplying woodfuel or are developing a woodfuel supply. Being included on this list does not imply endorsement of the organisation or of product quality. It is therefore essential that you ensure the wood chip or wood pellets provided meet the specification of your heating system. We recommend that you contact your potential supplier at an early stage in project development to ensure they are able to provide the fuel you need.

Each boiler has a specification for the type of chip or pellets it can use and you should check with your equipment supplier/installer that the woodfuel available is suitable. For wood chip, the two key quality requirements are:

- moisture content
- size of wood chip

Wood pellets should be supplied to a standard specification and your supplier should be able to give you more details.

Other considerations are the source of the raw material. It is also essential that you check the delivery arrangements with your supplier before designing and installing fuel storage.

For woodfuel users: check www.usewoodfuel.co.uk for updated lists

For woodfuel suppliers: go to www.usewoodfuel.co.uk to register on the list.
